Many Persons in Attendance at Says Railroads Are Trying to Misthe Carnival of the Jefferson Club at Handlan's Park Yester-

The carnival under the auspices of the Jefferson Club continues to prove a drawing card at Handlan's Park, Grand and Lackede avenues. Last night Lose persons took part in the festivities on the Pike. Cow bells, horns and other noise-marking implements were utilized to celebrate, while confetti and feather dusters again added their "teasing qualities" to the joilification.

Throughout the day-dedicated "St. Louis Day"—the park was crowded with revelers. They drank the red lemonade and ate the canny and pop corn to help the cause along.

The shows were all well purronized and everything oftered to the public in the way of annuscement had its inning.

Last night the crowd was larger than it has been since the carnival opened. The German Village was the Meeca for the pleasure-seekers. The Juvenile Theater was nother popular place on the Pike, and did a larger business than any of the other Pike attractions.

To-day is "World's Fair Day," Many special features are on the programme and it promises to be one of the banner days of carnival week. To-morrow is designated "Locille Mulhail Day,"

Ben J. Selkirk, director general and chairman of the Entertainment Committee, descended from one of the side shows long enough to talk of the big success of the carnival, He satii:

"There's nothing to it. The carnival is already a great big, booming success. The cowds are growing daily and the receipts are being enlarsed accordingly. The Pike shows are doing all they can do, and the other concessions are getting their share of the business."
